Neill Buchel's dismembered body has been found in a lake in Dagenham

EXCLUSIVE
By Charles Thomson

basildon@yellowad.co.uk

HOMICIDE detectives are probing an anonymous poem mailed to the Yellow Advertiser after a body was discovered in an east London lake.

Police investigating the death of 39-year-old Neill Buchel, of Braintree Road, Dagenham, have recovered his dismembered body at White Hart Lakes, off Chase Road, Dagenham.

They began searching after a member of the public reported seeing a human leg floating in the water.

Met Police divers have since recovered the rest of Mr Buchel's body parts.

Officers are now investigating the source of a letter, mailed to the Yellow Advertiser from Romford, which contains details about Mr Buchel and the crime scene which have not been released by the police.

The envelope contained a photocopy of a handwritten poem, with some details hand-written over the top of it.

Details of the poem's contents cannot be released for legal reasons.

A Yellow Advertiser reporter attempted to hand the letter in at Basildon police station, close to its offices, but officers refused to take it, saying they feared it would get lost.

The newspaper is now liaising with investigating officers, who have agreed to collect it.

Mr Buchel was reported missing on March 18.

A dedicated incident room has been opened at the Homicide and Major Crime Command centre in Barking.

Investigating officer, detective inspector Cliff Haines, urged potential witnesses to come forward.

He said: "There will have been people, and I have no doubt about that, that will have been at that lake at the time. The lake is open 24 hours a day. I believe there may well have been a number of people at the lake and it's possible someone will have heard something when the body was placed under the surface of the water."

He added that the force was 'keeping an open mind' on any potential motive.

DI Haines said anyone with information to contact the incident room by dialling 020 8345 3734 or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

● Three men arrested in connection with Mr Buchel's death have been bailed pending further enquiries.

TIMELINE

NEILL Buchel was last seen in Braintree Road, Dagenham, on Thursday, March 13.

He had been involved in an alleged altercation in Heath Park, Dagenham, earlier that day.

Police said it had been a 'verbal altercation' between Mr Buchel and 'another group of males'.

Police were called to the incident and a 41-year-old man was arrested on suspicion of public order offences.

He was subsequently issued with a penalty notice.

Mr Buchel returned to an address in Stansgate Road with friends after the altercation, which was the last time he was seen alive.

Mr Buchel's estranged partner reported him missing at roughly 8.30pm on March 18 after he failed to contact his two daughters - which police said was 'out of character'.

A human leg was discovered floating at White Hart Lakes, Dagenham, on Monday, March 31.

The discovery was reported to police shortly after 6pm.

Police initially did not publicly link the discovery to Mr Buchel's appearance, saying forensic tests had yet to be carried out.

However, they confirmed Mr Buchel's family had been informed.

Detective Chief Inspector Chris Jones issued an urgent witness appeal following the discovery, calling on anglers to report any suspicious behaviour.

He said: "I would like to ask anybody who has used the lakes over recent weeks whether they have noticed any unusual or suspicious activity. Have you seen anybody putting something into the water? Have you noticed anybody who you have not seen there before? Any information, no matter how trivial you think it may be, could be crucial to establishing what happened and I would urge you to speak with my team."

On Friday, April 4, detectives said that the whole body had been discovered, in several parts, and identified as Mr Buchel.

Nothing like a dame

By Charles Thomson

waltham@yellowad.co.uk

OSCAR-winning actress Dame Angela Lansbury returned to her old East London stomping ground at the weekend as part of a two-day celebration of her career.

Dame Angela attended two events at the Angela Lansbury Film Festival in Poplar on Sunday, April 6.

The 88-year-old attended an open-air screening of 1971 Disney film Bedknobs and Broomsticks at Chriss Street Market, then gave an hour-long interview in front of a small audience at nearby youth centre Spotlight.

She perched on a replica of the bed from the Disney film as she gave a short introductory speech.

Other events across the weekend included a giant pillow fight, screenings of Murder, She Wrote and showings of the actress's favourite films from her career.

Dame Angela marvelled at the 'absolute and total rejuvenation' of Poplar, which she visited frequently as a child to see her grandfather George.

Mr Lansbury, leader of the national Labour Party from 1932-1935, was Bromley and Bow MP for 20 years.

During her interview, Dame Angela recalled how the theatricality of her grandfather's political speeches had been a great influence on her decision to become an actress.

However, she denied any political ambitions of her own.

She told the audience of roughly 150 people: "I'm very unsophisticated when it comes to politics so I just stay out of it. I'm an actress. But I'm also a socialist."

Festival organiser Paul Augarde said: "It was fantastic to bring Dame Angela home to Poplar. The area obviously means a lot to her. She has very fond childhood memories – but was also really positive about the vibrancy of the place now and the current regeneration."

"The crowd absolutely loved her. About 350 people gave her a standing ovation in Chriss Street Market and she charmed every single one of them. She has that old school star quality that manages to combine incredible warmth with a touch of magic. We got some lovely feedback from her. I think she had a great day."

One Word: Epic!

New £1.5m skate park is big hit

YOUNGSTERS said they love their brand new £1.5 million skate park which opened on Wednesday.

The facility at Central Park in Harold Hill is the first fully-concrete skate park of its kind in the borough and designed with the help of young people who visit myplace cultural centre.

Sam Millar, 13, of Harold Hill, contributed to the designs and described the skate park in one word: 'Epic!' He added: "I love it, and you can see everyone else does too. It's really cool to see different people here all the time."

One mum, Kay Surridge, 37, from Harold Hill, said she couldn't describe how good it's been for her son Callum. She said: "He has ADHD. It's local, so I know he's near and safe, and everyone looks out for each other too."

James Bleach, 19, from Hornchurch has been skating for eight years. He said: "It's really good, and the best thing is that it's local. I've been going to Brentwood, so it's great to have this skate park so near."

One of the older people of the group, Adam Gove, 24, is a junior aircraft technician. He came from Brentwood to use the skate park.

He said: "It's a really good park, and it keeps kids off the street. They get some exercise and keep fit, but have fun too."

When the project is complete, the Gooshayes Drive park will also have a multi-use games area, a new children's play area, a BMX bike track, a refreshment kiosk and picnic area. There will also be a bridge linking the park to the myplace cultural centre.

The multi-use games area will be next to the skate park. Youngsters will be able to play football, basketball and other sports.

All the schemes together form part of the Harold Hill Ambitions programme, which aims to improve cultural facilities and revitalise the area.

The event will host a series of talks and screenings showcasing skills young filmmakers need to get into the film industry.

Clare Binns, programming and acquisitions director at Picturehouse Cinemas said: "This is a project with great scope to encourage a new generation of documentary watchers and filmmakers and which we hope will contribute to the renaissance of documentary film that cinema is experiencing."

"Picturehouse cinemas have always championed documentary film and continue to do so with 'Fresh Docs'."

Participants will have the opportunity to make their own short documentary in a week, led by BAFTA nominated director Chris Atkins.

The filming week will run over the Summer Half Term from 10.30am-5.30pm from May 26-30.

Free dog microchipping

All 33 of Best Friends Veterinary Group's, Vet practices are proudly participating in the Dogs Trust's Microchipping Through Vets Scheme from April 1st and will be offering free microchipping, to all dogs for the next 12 months.

Starting on the 1st April, any dog owner can contact these Vets to have their dog chipped for free. Implantation takes just a few moments and is done using a special type of syringe to place the microchip, which is smaller than a grain of rice, under the loose skin of a dog's neck.

Microchipping of dogs is set to become compulsory in England from April 2016, so this is a great opportunity for anyone with a presently non microchipped dog to get it done for free, ensuring that should they be parted with their dog at any point, they can be reunited as quickly as possible.

Elvira Meucci-Lyons, Head of Campaigns & Community at Dogs Trust, explains:

"Last year 111,986 stray and abandoned dogs were picked up by Local Authorities across the UK, with only 40% reunited with their owners. We hope this initiative will help to reduce the number of dogs put to sleep in council pounds because their owners cannot be traced. We are therefore delighted that so many Vets in the Peterborough area have joined the Microchipping Through Vets Campaign."

Pets can go missing for a many reasons; they can become scared by fireworks, thunderstorms and even road works invoking their animal fight or flight instincts, they can be injured and not be able to get home, or simply wander too far from home and get lost.

If microchipped Vets and local authorities can quickly identify a pet's owner and return the pet home with least stress to the animal caused. When pets are not microchipped they usually end up in a re-homing centre or worse, as due to a lack of space some centres are forced with the heartbreaking reality of having to put healthy animals to sleep, and no pet lover ever wants that.

To find your nearest Best Friends Veterinary Group practice and book an appointment for free dog microchipping, please visit our website www.bestfriendsgroup.com

Funding boost for Woodford Festival

THE WOODFORD Festival has received a £6,000 grant from Redbridge Council for 2014.

The cash will cover most of the costs of the event.

celebrating the wealth of talent that exists locally by helping to fund the Woodford Festival."

The sixth biannual event will take place from Saturday October 4 to Sunday October 12, featuring live music, art, poetry, walks, talks, drama, dance, arts and crafts events, concerts, film, theatre, quiz nights, beer festivals and more.

Printed colour programmes will be available late September/October from

On target for new £3.5m park

EXCITING TIMES: Members of sports clubs at Broxhill Park with Councillor Andrew Curtin Picture by MARK CLEVELAND

New pitches, tennis courts and pavilion

By Suzi Muston

havering@yellowad.co.uk

WORK is about to start on a £3.5 million state-of-the-art park in Harold Hill.

The work at Broxhill Park, in Broxhill Road, will include an artificial turf football pitch, two grass pitches, a multi-use games area including four new tennis courts, basketball and football facilities, and a new sports pavilion.

The sports pavilion will boast an indoor sports hall suitable for cricket, archery and badminton, and a 60m sprint track.

There will also be a café, a bar and social area, car park, picnic area and a children's play area.

Currently the site is used by Havering Tennis Club, the Harold Hill Bowls Club and the Havering Disabled Sport Association (HDSA).

But council chiefs said it was badly in need of modernisation. Officers said the existing clubs will all remain and the area will become a central hub for sports in Havering.

Grass pitches at Broxhill have already been created and preparation groundwork begins next week. Construction of the new pavilion will begin in June. The work is all part of Havering Council's Ambitions programme.

TESTIMONIALS of our Success

Really professional install in my Victorian terrace, they were able to harmonise the design and detailed work with the original features of my house. Whole house fitted, including a new backdoor, in three days.

Excellent work, thanks

The fitters were friendly, neat, tidy and efficient. Many people have commented on how good the new windows look. I would happily recommend dolphin to family and friends.

Thieves raid food bank

DESPERATE thieves have stolen goods from a food bank that feeds hundreds of people each month.

Food, donated by kind-hearted families and businesses, was taken from the Harold Hill food bank in Hilldene Avenue on Thursday morning.

Manager Mark Reeves, who runs the food bank, called the police after he found the building had been broken into and food taken.

Mark said: "The door had been kicked in. The people who broke in stole about a week's worth of food that could have fed a family of four.

"We don't know whether it was someone who was just hungry or someone who didn't have a food voucher or someone who had a voucher and found we were shut when they came here.

"Most people know

we are a charity though."

Families struggling to buy food are issued the food vouchers from a variety of sources including family support workers, schools, churches and children's centres.

They then take the voucher to the staff at the food bank.

bank is paid for by the Government.

Food comes from kind-hearted shoppers who buy an extra item or two for families in crisis to donate to the food bank.

Food is also donated to the food bank by local businesses.

In July, the YA ran an appeal for food donations to help Havering's families in need.

On average, in 2012, half a tonne of food per month was issued to families in crisis.

But in 2013, staff handed out more than 1.2 tonnes of food each month.

The Harold Hill food bank was started in 2012 by Mark Reeves with the help of the charity against poverty, Trussell Trust network.

To donate to the food bank visit haroldhill.foodbank.org.uk.

Your country estate

COMPACT BUT CAPACIOUS: The new Peugeot 308 SW. The 300 series has included an estate variant since the 304, way back in 1969

PEUGEOT'S new 308 SW estate model will cost from £16,895 when it arrives in June. It continues a pattern that has seen every generation of the 300 series include an estate variant since the 304, back in 1969.

From launch, the new-comer will be available with three petrol and five HDi diesel engines, all with the promise of class-leading fuel economy and low CO2 emissions. In fact the 308 is the first Peugeot to receive a new three-cylinder turbo petrol engine – the PureTech 1.2-litre e-THP with a choice of 110 or 130bhp.

Also available will be BlueHDi models, including a unit with emissions of 82g/km in the hatchback and 85g/km in the SW, plus next generation six-speed automatic gearboxes.

Four trim grades – Access, Active, Allure and Feline – are up for grabs in a car that has been completely redesigned to offer a sleek and sporty style.

And despite being a compact estate, the car's dimensions – 4.58m long

by Mike Torpey

and 1.47m high – are sufficient to provide ample space, versatility and practicality.

The French manufacturer says that the new SW's boot capacity is class-leading and its rear seats are folded with a single action from inside the boot to provide a perfectly flat floor.

Weight-saving technology has resulted in the Peugeot being 140kg lighter than its predecessor, enhancing the overall driving experience.

Inside, the i-Cockpit is the same as that featured in the 308 hatchback and highlights Peugeot's continued move upmarket.

Simple, intuitive and smart, it comprises a raised instrument panel, high centre console and 9.7-inch touchscreen.

There's just a single button, then everything else – multimedia, air-flow, sat-nav, heating – is controlled on the screen.

Pricing ranges from the PureTech 1.2L e-THP at £16,895, to £25,145 for the 2L BlueHDi 150 six-speed Feline automatic.

Eight in 10 say yes to 20mph speed limits

Support arrives fast for slow-down

by Mike Torpey

HUGE public support for 20mph limits has been revealed by road safety charity Brake.

Its latest survey, in conjunction with Allianz Insurance, shows eight in 10 people think 20mph should be the norm around schools, on residential streets and in village, town and city centres. The news comes as Brake takes its GO 20 campaign to Parliament, calling on it to support the introduction of 20mph as the default urban speed limit.

The survey also found that seven in 10 say roads in their town or village need to be made safer for walking and cycling, while eight in 10 say traffic travels too fast on some or most of their local roads. And eight in 10 also think it would encourage more people to walk or cycle if roads and routes in their town or village were made safer.

With an estimated 12.5 million people in the UK now living in areas implementing or committed to widespread 20mph limits, Brake argues the country is reaching a tipping point where it makes social and economic sense to make a national change.

Areas that have already introduced 20mph limits have seen significant reductions in casualties. In Portsmouth, they fell by 22 per cent and in Camden, north London, crashes reduced by 54 per cent.

Other high-profile local authorities now 'GOing 20' include the City of London, Birmingham, Newcastle and Edinburgh. Brake is urging members of the public to write to their MP to support the GO 20 initiative and 'Pledge to GO 20' themselves.

The group's deputy chief executive Julie Townsend said: "The GO 20 campaign is about defending everyone's right to walk and cycle freely without being endangered, whether it's to get to work, school, the shops or just getting out and being active. "It's clear that 20mph limits in communities can help bring this about – and it's clear this is what people want."

"That's why so many local authorities are making the switch from 30mph to 20mph."

O'S DRAW THE SHORT STRAW

Orient

Sheffield United 1 Leyton Orient 1
Sky Bet League One
By Rowland Lyons
at Bramall Lane

LEYTON Orient had to be satisfied with a point on Saturday after Jamie Murphy cancelled out Dean Cox's stunning first-half opener.

Against a side representing the division in an FA Cup semi-final at Wembley this weekend, the O's started like the side that had taken the league by storm before Christmas.

After Lloyd James and Moses Odubajo had gone close, Cox netted with a fine finish after an eight-man passing move saw Odubajo dummy his marker and Cox found space and with some neat control, fired past a helpless Mark Howard.

United rallied after the break, and despite several close shaves, sloppy defending allowed Murphy a clear sight of goal. Jamie Jones at least sent the winger wide of the goal, but he still netted from a fine goal and grabbed United's 7000th goal in their 125-year history.

With Slade throwing on late subs, David Mooney and Shaun Batt, the points were there for the taking and both sides had chances with Kevin Lisbie – who had another excellent game – having an effort blocked, before the Blades' John Brayford headed wide and sub, Stefan Scougall was unable to control Murphy's stoppage time cross.

Manager, Russell Slade reflected: 'I thought we played some excellent football in the first half. Dean Cox hit a great goal. It was really well-worked. There were probably [up to] eight passes in the build-up and Moses [Odubajo] has sold the defender a 'dummy' and Coxy has slotted it in'.

Slade was disappointed by United's leveller: 'We needed to keep the focus – we probably lost a little of that. We should have won the ball further up the field and then it's an individual mistake that has cost us. We seem to be getting punished for those little mistakes at the moment'.

Despite the play-offs looming, Slade admitted: 'I even said a week ago that it [promotion] is looking unlikely. There's still five games to go. But, we'll still be playing with the right attitude, desire, enthusiasm and spirit that took us to the top of the table. We want to go into those games in good form'.

Slade concluded: 'We worked the ball really well through the midfield. There were some good performances. Lundstrom did a very good job for us and Ness did very well.'

Goalscorer, Cox added: 'I thought for sixty minutes we were in control – to be honest. Obviously, we took the lead and we looked strong. To be fair to Sheffield United – they put us under pressure and they nick a goal and it ends in a draw. We maybe should have nicked another goal to kill off the game – but it wasn't to be'.

Blade's boss, Nigel Clough admitted: 'We didn't deserve the three points – on our first-half performance. I thought second-half we were much improved – I think Orient did what a few teams have done to us this season. They frustrated us in the first-half, nicked a goal and proved difficult for us to break down'.

■ Orient entertain Gillingham this Saturday (kick-off 3pm)

Concord claim another victory

Non-League round up
by Brian Jeeves

CONCORD Rangers remained in the top half of the Skril Conference South with another away day special. This time FA Trophy finalists Gosport Borough were the Beach Boys victims, as second half goals from Lewis Taaffe and skipper Tony Stokes earned a 2-1 triumph.

However, Chelmsford City slipped into the relegation zone after a dramatic 4-3 defeat at Boreham Wood, Christian Smith (penalty), Matthew Lock and Luke Callander were on target for the unlucky Claret.

In the Ryman Premier Division there was a surprise defeat for AFC Hornchurch. The potent George Purcell fired the Urchins ahead with a first half penalty, however, visitors Hendon hit back to take the points with a 2-1 victory. East Thurrock United secured a 2-0 derby win over Canvey Island, while Billericay Town grabbed a 1-1 draw at Lewes. And there was a useful point on the road for Grays Athletic who shared four goals with Harrow Borough.

Plenty of drama in the Ryman North, an Alexander Read goal just after the break earned Harlow Town a 1-0 win at Aveley, and it was the same outcome at Redbridge where just 54 fans watched Chatham Town walk away with the points.

Tilbury edged out Romford 2-1, Danny Aldwinckle grabbing a brace for the Dockers, and Maldon & Tiptree won an entertaining game at Erith & Belvedere by four goals to two. There was a cracker at Burnham Ramblers where the home side drew 3-3 with Brentwood Town, and a 2-2 draw at Soham Town Rangers where Lewis Francis and Christopher Taylor found the net for visitors Barkingside.

Heybridge Swifts won 2-0 at Waltham Forest, but there were defeats for Witham Town, 3-1 at VCD Athletic, and Thurrock, by the same score at home to Dereham Town.

Plenty of goals and drama in the Essex Senior League. Game of the day saw the top two meet at Mile End Stadium. Tower Hamlets raced into a 2-0 lead, only for Great Wakering Rovers to grab a point thanks to goals from Lewis Sparrow and the evergreen Bertie Brayley. Enfield 1893 kept up the chase with a 5-2 win at Greenhouse London, while there were 5-1 triumphs for Eton Manor, over Basildon United, and FC Romania, against Takeley. Nine-man Clapton continued their fine campaign with a 3-1 win at Barking and there was a 2-0 win for Haringey Borough at London Bari.

Sawbridgeworth Town and Sporting Bengal United fought out an entertaining 2-2 draw, and a single goal at Southchurch Park was enough to see Bowers & Pitsea overcome Southend Manor.

One point in it as Woodford under 15s come so close

Rugby

Woodford 26 Upper Clapton 27
U15s Friendly

WITH the rain holding off after a pre-match shower, conditions were perfect as Woodford welcomed Division 1 Upper Clapton for what turned out to be an enthralling and sportingly played game on Sunday.

With a significant number of first team forwards unavailable, the spirit of the Woodford squad was going to be tested in what turned out to be a very close run contest.

Upper Clapton demonstrated good scrummaging and got a foot in the game. It took a good tackle from Will Curness, and then a strong hold up by Victor Chujor with William Tindall in support, to stem the fight back.

The visitors spotted a gap on the left and opened the scoring after five minutes. With the conversion missing the mark, Upper Clapton led 0 - 5.

With 16 minutes gone, Woodford lost a line out in their own half and Upper Clapton gained possession. As they passed left down the line with a clear overlap another try seemed certain. The sharp Sohoye saw an opportunity and nipped in to intercept and start off on a length of the pitch run. The Upper Clapton winger tracked back at an amazing pace to catch up but Sohoye was alert, checked his run, changed direction, evading his would be tackler, and getting the ball down.

The conversion was not made, but Woodford had levelled the game.

Momentum was shifting back to Woodford. Marks made another good drive, and Carey took over the move to make up more ground before securing and offloading to West who burst his way through for a superb try. With Marks converting the try, Woodford led 12-5.

As the visitors regained possession, West held play up well, and Vaid and Chujor flew in with strong tackles. Sohoye nearly found a gap to relieve the pressure but with Woodford tackles missing the mark, the visitors scored again. Unconverted, Woodford's lead was reduced to 12-10.

An early penalty saw West tap and run. Passing to Batt, he fed Sohoye, who passed to Carey who was tackled on the wing. Despite good tackling by Farrelly, and Chamberlain's marshalling of the defensive line, a top notch passing move by the visitors paid off with a try on the right. Unconverted Upper Clapton led 15-12.

Upper Clapton started the second half in determined mood and looked threatening. With Upper Clapton punishing a stray Woodford pass, Farrelly did well to nip in and secure the ball. The relief was short-lived and with another overlap and an absence of tackles, Upper Clapton extended their lead with another try, which was converted. Woodford trailed 12-22.

With play back deep in the Woodford half, Sohoye and Bastick made timely tackles, followed by Farrelly, and then Curness but an overlap of three proved too much and extended the visitors lead. With the conversion falling short, Upper Clapton established a commanding 27-12 lead.

Perkins started off what was to be one of Woodford's most creative moves. The re-jigged backline committed the Upper Clapton defence and slipped neat passes to the next player. The final pass gave Marks a lot to do on the wing but he scorched to the try line and between the posts. Marks also converted making the score 19-27.

Upper Clapton attacked again and Woodford struggled to make the tackles count. Perkins made a deft pass to Carey on the wing, before a classy Woodford passing move brought in Batt, Wilkins, Goraczky, and Ali.

Ali did well to find Marks who made a dizzying, sidestepping run, jinking down the wing and around to the left of the posts for a fine try. Converting the try himself, Marks reduced the deficit to an exciting 26-27.

Woodford mounted another attack as the seconds ticked away but lost the ball. Time ran out and Upper Clapton held on by for the victory.
